

Reel Earth

Environmental Film Festival

Call for Entries for our 6th Festival Season

Reel Earth is where the environment gets seen, gets heard, gets attention!

New Zealand is the confluence of a globally unique natural environment and the eminent film culture developed by Peter Jackson - making Reel Earth an unrivaled opportunity for creatives with a passion for film and the environment.

Your film belongs here!

Click to Enter

via Withoutabox

Reel Earth Awards celebrate integrity and excellence in international and New Zealand film making, and aim to inspire and reward creators of high impact film about the environment. Juried awards with prizes in excess of US$6000 are already secured for 2010 festival entrants.

Early Bird Discount ends 05 Jan 10 (postmark date). Regular Entry closes 19 Jan 10. Late Entry (fees apply) are accepted until 09 February 10.

About Reel Earth

New Zealand is an enthusiastic audience for Festival Film - a tiny country with a big heart that loves the cinematic arts and the natural world. At Reel Earth we aim to make a positive difference for the environment by connecting people with the best films of our time - your films.

Our focus encompasses the range of environment themes - natural history, contemporary issues, and environmental justice. With over $6000 already secured for prize money, the Reel Earth Awards offer a robustly juried competition for both international and New Zealand filmmakers.

Reel Earth was founded in 2005 as the Aotearoa Environmental Film Festival, and has blossomed into a leading environment film festival in the Southern Hemisphere. In 2009 we screened to an audience of over 5,000 with a truly world-class 'Green Carpet' launch week attended by filmmakers and distributors from around New Zealand and around the world.

For 2010 we are planning 7 Days in May that will be the event to come to, with the kind of hospitality Kiwis just love to share! Check our website for details, early in the new year.

Environmental integrity is core to our philosophy. Reel Earth, our sponsors and festival partners all demonstrate a tangible commitment to environmental sustainability in their practices.

On Behalf of Reel Earth,

Warren Jones

Director

visit us today: www.reearth.org.nz

ENDS